

Recipe Index

A recipe index template consisting of a central vertical line with a small square box at the top and bottom. Two horizontal lines extend from the top and bottom boxes to the left and right edges of the template. Between these horizontal lines, there are 20 horizontal lines, each with a small square box at its left and right ends. This layout is designed for listing recipes, with the central line serving as a column for recipe names and the side boxes serving as checkboxes for tracking recipe status.